“ I don't know what it is about today but you have been on my mind, in my heart and my tears today. I guess it's getting close to my birthday and you always made my homemade coconut cake. It will never be the same here without you. You were the first one there. From my first breath until your last one. I wish I could have done more for you. Love and miss you with all my heart. Thank you for being my mom

“ Hey Momma. It's been over 4 years since you left me. I miss more than words could ever explain. I can't just come talk to you when I want to or call you and tell you what's going on. You were the greatest mom ever. Anthony and Rachael still trying to get pregnant. Maybe you put in a good word for them. Dixie fixing to be 13. If good Lord willing I get your house completely fixed before long. Id love to live there before I come see you. I appreciate them leaving your name here so I can talk to you. I love you Momma. I miss you. In my heart always and forever

“ Hey Momma. It's been 3 years ago today storm came through and straight line winds tore part of roof off your house. Guess what, I'm sure you already know but winds blowing pretty hard and chance of storms and maybe even tornado today. Just praying this roof holds. I'm sure you're close to the man in charge so maybe you put in a good word. I love you so very much and miss you with everything I am but one thing for sure you always my Momma and never be forgotten. You are one precious lady with a heart of gold

“ Hey Momma. It's been 2 years and 7 months since God called you home. I still see you in the living room watching Hallmark movies and calling my name when you needed something. You were my guardian angel while you were here from day one and you always will be. Thank you for being my momma and I thank God for everyday I had with you. Love and miss you forever and always “ Momma it's been over 2 years and it feels like yesterday because he hurts so much and yet it seems like forever since I could see you and talk to you and touch you. I love and miss you more than words could ever explain.

“ Today is your 2nd Birthday in Heaven. It still hurts as bad as the day you left. You were and are and always will be best friend I ever or ever will have. I wish I'd been a better daughter. Please know how much you are loved and missed. I be glad when we together again. I hope you liked the flowers. I'm not as good as you but I try. Love and miss you. Forever and Always “ Momma it's been little over nine months and I still haven't seemed to get anywhere near understanding what went wrong. Anthony and Jonathon and me have had our first birthdays without you. Just doesn't seem real. You are missed and loved so very much. I always knew someday you be gone but I always put it away in my mind. I guess we think our parents are invincible and take for granted they always be here. You are loved and missed beyond measure. God gave me the greatest gift ever when He gave me you as my momma. I just wish others knew before it's too late. To the most wonderful mom in the world. I love and miss you. God help us all for you were so amazing you left a huge hole in our hearts that never be filled. I know you are happy and as much as I'd love to if I could I wouldn't bring you back. We are at end of days and Jesus is coming soon. I believe I be seeing you soon. We all will. Love you.

“ Nanny i miss you and love you. I miss making the pb and j every morning. The talks we had. I know you are not hurting now and are very happy where you are. I know you can help with your love and presence so please help Jonathon and Anthony and lorrie and the rest of us get through it and remember all our good times. You were and are and always will be loved more than we could ever show. Thank you for love you showed me. A very precious and loving soul. Love Andy

“ God sent an Angel to be my momma. She had a lot of difficult times in her life but she always trusted in God and with prayer and faith He always brought her through. On January 8, 2020 He came to take His Angel back home. I am lost without her but I know she in no more pain. God I just want to say Thank You for the most precious gift. Momma I promise I will see you again but until that time there will be a hole in my heart for which only you can fill. I love you and I miss you. Love Lorrie
