“ My sweet brother in Christ Jesus I am so going to miss you. I loved being around you and listening to you tell your life story. You had so much love for your wife and all those wonderful babies you always took such delight in telling me about something one of them did or their accomplishments. I know you are in Heaven singing and playing for the Lord and that is awesomeness I just wish I could here you one more time. We lost a brave soldier with such true faith but Heaven gained a true warrior I love you my sweet friend and I will miss you so but you are forever in my heart!: 1:❤️🙏

“ There are so many memories I have with my Dad. He was the best father one could ask for. He has always been there for me even when he did not agree with my choices. That was the man he was. He loved his family unconditionally. My Dad fought a long hard battle the past five years. He never gave up even in his last moments of this life. I am not sure how to continue life without you Daddy, but I will figure it out because that is what you would want me to do. I promise you I will finish my degree and make you proud everyday for the rest of my life. I will not let you down. I will miss coming over to bring you and mom dinner and running errands with you. I will miss trying to get you in the car for your appointments. I will miss riding around in the car with you having no idea where we were going, but it was just time spent with you. I will miss your voice and everything about you Daddy. I am so heartbroken and I do not know how mom is going to survive this world without you. It breaks my heart to even look at her because she is so lost. I know it was your time to go and that is what you wanted as you told me to just let you go. I will always take care of the kids and never let you down. One day at a time we will get used to you being in Heaven, but oh Daddy is it going to be hard. I miss everything about you! I cry myself to sleep knowing you are more than a phone call away. Please give my babies a kiss and hug for me. Let them know they are oh so loved and just like you never forgotten. Be a good PAPA to them because they deserve you just as much as you deserve them. I will miss going to your house and those HUGE CATFISH being in your sink as you cleaned them. I will miss everything about you!!!! Please know I love you and will live everyday of my life making you proud. There will not be a day goes by that I do not think of you. You are in my heart forever and always. I miss hearing you sing as it always brought tears to my eyes and chills to my spine. There is no other Daddy that could even compare to you. I promise to visit you ALOT and bring the kids to see you. I will continue telling them about you as you will be a part of everything we do. I know you loved Mama more than anything in the world. I am not sure how she is going to be able to leave you Thursday, but one thing is for certain she will always love you in this life and the next. I know you in the arms of sweet Jesus and you are having a good time with everyone there. I want you to fly high and be our guardian Angel because we all love and miss you so much Daddy. I am not sure how Christian or Johnathan is going to react coming to your house and you not being there. They love you so much and you taught us all so much about life. You are the love of my life. There will never be another like you Daddy. Until we meet again please know I love you then and I love you now, always and forever!!!!
