“Bro. Ken was one of my adopted grand-daddies at New Temple Baptist Church. Each time we were both at church, we would not leave until we had a moment to laugh together, and I refused to leave without a grand-daddy hug. Bro. Ken was faithful to pray for me during trials, and he was sure to check-up on each situation so that he could pray specifically until the situation resolved. He lived a life committed to God and always found joy in serving Him by serving others. I have always admired and appreciated Bro. Ken's and Mrs. Ova's love and commitment to their immediate family and church family.

Bro. Ken was faithful to the deacon ministry at New Temple Baptist Church as well as to ongoing mission projects. Although I never ministered abroad as Bro. Ken did in support of Sunrise Ministries in Uganda (as well as "It's a God Thing" ministry in Honduras), we did organize and price donated items for the yard sale to support Sunrise Ministries. He also lifted heavy items, much heavier than Mrs. Ova probably wanted him to lift, and my husband who worked alongside him appreciated the fact that Bro. Ken did not let his age stop him from serving beyond his home at his church.

It is a blessing to know that Bro. Ken's salvation from God Almighty secured his eternal home in Heaven where he will, in a glorified body, forever worship the Creator. I am certain God was pleased with the work he completed for the glory of the Lord. He is a fine example of the servant found in Matthew 25:21 whose lord told him, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant." May we continue the work that Bro. Ken was part of, the Great Commission.

During this difficult time, I find myself singing "Won't It Be Wonderful There?"

*When with the Savior we enter the Gloryland
Won't it be wonderful there?
Ended the troubles and cares of the story land
Won't it be wonderful there?*

*Won't it be wonderful there?
Having no burdens to bear
Joyously singing, with heartbells all ringing
Oh, won't it be wonderful there?*

*Walking and talking with Christ, the Supernal One
Won't it be wonderful there?
Praising, adoring the Matchless Eternal One
Won't it be wonderful there?*

*Won't it be wonderful there?
Having no burdens to bear
Joyously singing, with heartbells all ringing
Oh, won't it be wonderful there?*

*There where the tempest will never be sweeping us
Won't it be wonderful there?
Sure that forever the Lord will be keeping us
Won't it be wonderful there?*

*Won't it be wonderful there?
Having no burdens to bear
Joyously singing, with heartbells all ringing
Oh, won't it be wonderful there?*

Prayers for Mrs. Ova, her children, her grandchildren, her great-grandchildren, and the host of other family and close friends,

Michele Kelly
