“ I randomly thought of lehman Goodwin tonight so I googled his name and I realized he had recently passed. Mr Lehman worked with me on a pipeline in Alabama around 2002. I was young and full of energy he took me under his wing to calm me down and showed me how to lead. A lot of his lessons I still use today, he showed me slow and steady always wins. He showed a 19 year old a lot of respect which I had not deserved up until that point because I was young and dumb with a small supervisor position. But Lehman was calm and full of wisdom to slow me down and do great work not fast work. I thank him for all the life lessons. Until we meet again my friend.
