“ I have been thinking of wonderful childhood memories shared with Aunt Mildred. She wasn't actually my Aunt, in fact she was my Granny's niece. I adopted the very special ladies in my life as my Aunt's.

When I'd overhear Granny on the phone saying... Midge, you got any oodlin'? I knew what was coming next, Granny would say, I'm going to Doodle's and take these catheads. I knew that meant that we were going to Aunt Mildred's to have gravy and biscuits! They were both amazing cooks. I loved to tag along with my Granny! I loved Aunt Mildred's house, I was always fascinated by her doll collection. Of course, I was always right at the table listening to she and Granny talk. Her voice was enchanting, I loved listening to her. Something that I learned about her after I grew up, she was a fabulous seamstress! I was within days of leaving on a trip, being the procrastinator I am...I realized at the last minute that my formal gown, with a huge flowing skirt, was too long. I was panicking! I called my Aunt Dot and she told me to call my Aunt Mildred. I did and she gladly told me to come on over. We spent the best afternoon together while she measured the gown. We talked, laughed and giggled like school girls, it was so much fun and I'll treasure that memory, always. She hemmed that gown to perfection! She would not accept a penny, only a hug and my appreciation.

Thinking of all of you, sending my love.
